

Why Granada?

- It is a lively and enchanting city in the South of Spain, full of monuments, history and a prominent university.
- It has a privileged location between the sea and the mountains (30 minutes from the Mediterranean coast with its tropical climate and 30 minutes from the Sierra Nevada ski resort).
- It is famous for its gastronomy, wines, and tapas.
- It is a top tourist destination for its beautiful landscapes.

Why University of Granada?

- It is one of the first universities established in Europe, founded in 1531.
- It is widely recognized for its quality in teaching, research and outreach.
- According to 2016 and 2017 editions of the ARWU-Shanghai Ranking, the UGR is the second-ranked university in Spain.
- It offers an extensive selection of high-quality academic programmes.
